

RALPH JAEGER JOINS SIGULER GUFF'S EMERGING MARKETS TEAM

New York, NY – March 1, 2012 – Siguler Guff & Company, a multi-strategy private equity investment firm which, together with its affiliates, has approximately $10.0 billion in assets under management, announced today that Ralph Jaeger is joining the firm as a Managing Director on March 5th.

Mr. Jaeger will be a senior member of the investment team for Siguler Guff's BRIC Opportunities Funds, which invest in the large and dynamic economies of Brazil, Russia, India, China and other Frontier Markets. Mr. Jaeger will be actively involved in portfolio construction and will source, analyze and monitor the firm's Emerging Markets investments. His extensive background in international private equity will complement the existing team as the firm continues to build relationships with fund managers, entrepreneurs, industry experts, local intermediaries and government officials throughout the Emerging Markets. Siguler Guff has invested over $3 billion in the Emerging Markets since the firm was founded in 1991.

Commenting on the addition to the Emerging Markets investment team, Drew Guff, Managing Director and founding partner said: "Ralph brings thirteen years of international private equity experience to our firm. His private equity research and investment experience will enhance Siguler Guff's Emerging Market capabilities." Added Mr. Jaeger: "I am thrilled to join Siguler Guff's talented group of professionals and look forward to collaborating with the investment teams both in the U.S. and across the BRIC markets. The opportunity in the Emerging Markets is enormous and, given Siguler Guff's extensive experience in these regions, I am confident that we will continue to create value for our clients."

Prior to joining Siguler Guff, Mr. Jaeger was a Senior Research Consultant at Cambridge Associates LLC, an investment advisor in Boston, where he led international private equity and venture capital research and due diligence projects, and provided advisory services to clients. Previously, he was a Director at von Braun & Schreiber, an institutional fund-of-funds manager in Germany, an Investment Director at PAI Partners, a private equity firm in France, and an Investment Manager at JPMorganPartners, the global private equity division of JPMorgan Chase & Co. Mr. Jaeger began his private equity career in 1999 at IndustriKapital in Germany.

Mr. Jaeger graduated with honors in European Business Administration from Middlesex University in London. He holds a Diplom Betriebswirt from ESB Business School der Hochschule Reutlingen.
